Minnesota	$206,200	$759	$1,549

Source: US Census Bureau, ACS (2006-2010)

At $22,200, the median home value in Boyd is below both Lac qui Parle County and the state of Minnesota, and it is the lowest compared to similar sized communities in the Region. Median monthly housing costs for homeowners are also the lowest among like-sized communities in the Region. The median rent in Boyd, on the other hand, falls in the middle compared to similar sized communities, for which data is available. However, the median rent in Boyd is higher than the median rent in Lac qui Parle County as a whole.

2010 Vacancy Rates

Source: US Census Bureau, Decennial

Home ownership vacancy rate and rental vacancy rate are the proportion of the homeowner or rental inventory that is vacant "for sale" or vacant "for rent." The overall vacancy rate includes other vacancies such as vacant "sold - not occupied," seasonal housing and vacant "rented - not occupied." In 2010, the city of Boyd had an overall vacancy rate comparable to other like-sized communities, while having a higher rental vacancy rate.

Boyd is part of the Dawson-Boyd School District, which, like most school districts in the Region, has seen a steady decline in school enrollment over the last decade. The decline in school enrollment is consistent with the declining and aging population in the Region. Note that data was only available for public school districts.

UMVRDC staff developed the concept and design for the Community Profile Brochures and data was collected by students and staff from the Center for Small Towns at the University of Minnesota, Morris. All information was collected from trusted sources such as the U.S. Census Bureau, the American Community Survey, Minnesota Department of Employment & Economic Development (DEED), and the Minnesota Department of Education and is presumed to be accurate.

Helping Communities Prosper

2010 Census Data for Boyd, Minnesota

This Community Profile Brochure is comprised of statistical information from a variety of sources and will provide a snapshot of historical and current demographic, economic and social trends in the Upper Minnesota Valley Region. The purpose is to provide a concise summary of key community statistics to aid decision making about community and economic development.

This statistical and informational profile was compiled by the UMRVDC in collaboration with The Center for Small Towns at the University of Minnesota, Morris for all five counties (Big Stone, Chippewa, Lac qui Parle, Swift and Yellow Medicine) and 37 cities in the Upper Minnesota Valley Region.

Unemployment Rates, 2000-2011

Source: Minnesota Department of Employment and Economic Development, LAUS

The employment categories shown in the table above and chart below show the 11 Super Sectors of Industry, which is the federal standard in data pertaining to business and industry. The table above shows that much of the employment and economic activity in Boyd is outside the 11 Super Sectors—only 11 of the 33 jobs and approximately one sixth of the city's economic activity. The pie chart below details that in Lac qui Parle County, just over one third of all employment comes from Education and Health Services. The Manufacturing and Trade, Transportation and Utilities sectors are also large employers in the county. Lac qui Parle County had a slight increase in unemployment during the Recession of 2007-2009, but in 2011 had an unemployment rate under 5.5%, the lowest of all counties in the Region.
