Housing & School Enrollment

The data presented below includes statistics related to school enrollment and housing in the Region, including median home values, median rent, median monthly housing costs and vacancy rates for communities in the UMRVDC Region as well as the state of Minnesota.

At $96,700 the median home value in Danvers is well below that for the state of Minnesota, however it is comparable to the median home value for Swift County and the highest compared to like-sized communities in the Region. Median monthly housing costs for homeowners in Danvers are also among the highest compared to similar sized communities in the Region. There is no data available for the median rent due to confidentiality, which is typical of a community this size.

2010 Housing Statistics

2010 Vacancy Rates

Source: US Census Bureau, Decennial

Home ownership vacancy rate and rental vacancy rate are the proportion of the homeowner or rental inventory that is vacant "for sale" or vacant "for rent." The overall vacancy rate includes other vacancies such as vacant "sold - not occupied," seasonal housing and vacant "rented - not occupied." In 2010, the city of Danvers had typical vacancy rates among surrounding communities. The rental vacancy rate looks worse than it actually is since the Census recognized only one rental property and it was vacant.

Danvers is part of the Benson School District. The Benson School District, like other school districts in the Region, has seen a steady decline in school enrollment over the past decade, however the decreases in enrollment for the Benson School District are not as dramatic as other districts in the Region. Note data was only available for public school districts.

UMVRDC staff developed the concept and design for the Community Profile Brochures and data was collected by students and staff from the Center for Small Towns at the University of Minnesota, Morris. All information was collected from trusted sources such as the U.S. Census Bureau, the American Community Survey, Minnesota Department of Employment & Economic Development (DEED), and the Minnesota Department of Education and is presumed to be accurate.

Helping Communities Prosper

2010 Census Data for Danvers, Minnesota

This Community Profile Brochure is comprised of statistical information from a variety of sources and will provide a snapshot of historical and current demographic, economic and social trends in the Upper Minnesota Valley Region. Having clear and concise community statistics will provide for more informed decision making about community development and business expansion, relocation and future investments.

This statistical and informational profile was compiled by the UMRVDC in collaboration with The Center for Small Towns at the University of Minnesota, Morris for all five counties (Big Stone, Chippewa, Lac qui Parle, Swift and Yellow Medicine) and 37 cities in our Upper Minnesota Valley region.

Danvers Population Distribution, 2010

Source: U.S. Census Bureau, 2010 Decennial Census

The population distribution above shows that there is a high percentage of the population in the middle aged cohorts. There is also a high male population in the 15 to 24 age cohorts, but low female population of the same age cohorts with no females in the 20-24 age cohort. However, there are higher percentages of females in the 10-14 age cohort. Danvers has a nearly all white population, which is typical for a community of this size.

Danvers has seen an overall decrease in population of over 26 percent from 1960-2010. Despite the overall loss, the population has fluctuated over the years with the largest decrease occurring between 1980 and 1990. Compared to other like-sized communities in the Region, Danvers has one of the lower rates of decline in population. The population is projected to continue to decrease over the next few decades, however less dramatically than it has in the past.
