III. Counseling Reporting Guideline

Henry Fulda and Gail Hockert talked to the committee about student counseling. There is no set policy for the campus on the reporting of possible student health issues by faculty and staff. Henry will do “cold calls” to students after being informed of potential problems. Henry told the committee what to do after hours, when counseling services are closed and a crisis situation occurs, in that case, Campus Security should be contacted for assistance. Henry spoke of other resources available, such as help lines and on-line counseling. Student Counseling spends about 3 ½ hours with the CAs during their training in August. UMM conducts an annual mental health screening for students during November.
