Joint meeting of Steering Committee and Committee Chairs
September 17, 2012

Present: Zak Forde, Jennifer Goodnough, Brook Miller, Roger Wareham, Ted Pappenfus, Rita Bolluyt, Peter Bremer, Tammy Berberi, LeAnn Dean, Sheri Breen, LeAnn Dean, Tim Soderberg, Jacqueline Johnson, Margaret Kuchenreuther, Jennifer Deane, Matt Senger, Dave Swenson, Sylke Boyd, Jayne Blodgett, Jeff Ratliff-Crain, Joey Daniewicz

Jeff Ratliff-Crain, Chair of the Steering Committee noted that we are mandated by the Constitution to hold the joint meeting every semester. The agenda for the meeting today includes:

- Introductions
- Tips for being an effective chair
- Brief committee reports on what issues your committee will be addressing
- Getting items on Campus Assembly agenda
- Communication with the rest of the campus

Tips for being an effective chair:

- You have chosen to accept a role that may often seem like herding cats, but there are ways to improve how your meetings flow
- Set an agenda and send it out before the meeting (even if your agenda is to brainstorm ideas, make sure people know what the plan is for the meeting)

- So, for instance the SC would like to recommend that all committees meet on a regular basis, even if you haven't been handed a task, so perhaps your first meeting will be a chance to discuss possible projects as well as review the charge of your committee

- An agenda can also help keep meetings moving along; CA now has time frames; try to stick to those times as best as possible

- Have a goal for the meeting (by the end of the meeting we want to have ...)
- Make sure all necessary parties are invited/ can attend the meeting
- Make sure people know the meeting expectations prior to arriving (for instance, if they need to read a report or something prior to the meeting, it's good to know that)
- During the meeting be conscious of who might be speaking too much and who might not be participating as much; watch body language and make adjustments as necessary; keep the meeting on topic

- Assign a note-taker; ask him/ her to include notes about who was assigned to do what
- Send out minutes in a timely manner (more on this later)
- Other suggestions?
  - prioritize agenda items; neither begin nor end with items that are “for action” in the event people arrive late or have to leave early
  - include “in these minutes” at the beginning of the minutes and list topic

Communication with the rest of the campus

The campus governance page and committee websites need to be updated to reflect the new Constitution. Matt Senger showed an example of how the committee pages should look. It was suggested that a template will be created for each committee so they simply have supply the information. Please continue to send minutes to Jayne in a timely manner in either a word doc or pdf. Keep in mind the digital well is not password protected.
