Catalog description: The Honors Program represents an opportunity for UMM students to pursue an interdisciplinary and interdivisional curriculum and work toward graduation "with honors." All UMM students are eligible to participate in the Honors Program. <no change>

Honors courses are limited to a class size of 20. The elective courses examine a particular topic from an interdisciplinary perspective. The courses are often team-taught by faculty from different UMM academic divisions and concern subjects of special interest to the faculty who design them.

Further information about the Honors Program may be obtained from the Academic Center for Enrichment (ACE) office at www.morris.umn.edu/ACE.

Brief summary or overview of reason for proposed new program or rationale for changes: Updating Academic Plan code. Elective credits may now be earned through a combination of 2- and 4-credit courses. The possibility of earning two of the eight credits by writing a paper about a co-curricular experience affords students more flexibility and recognizes formally the value of such experiences.
