Closing Remarks

Honored Retirees

Vasilikie Demos, professor of sociology, has been a faculty member since 1977. During her UMM career, Demos was instrumental in establishing the women's studies major. Demos has authored numerous published articles and served as president of the Sociologists for Women in Society organization and of the North Central Sociological Association, from which she received the 2001 Aida K. Tomeh Distinguished Service Award. She also received the UMM Faculty Distinguished Research Award in 2001.

John Ingle, professor of studio art, has been a faculty member since 1966. Ingle's career as a teacher of excellence is paralleled by his career as an acclaimed watercolor artist. His work has been exhibited in numerous artistic presentations and exhibitions as well as the topic of numerous books, reviews and articles. Ingle's paintings have found permanent homes in such places as the Metropolitan Museum of Art and the Yale University Art Gallery.

Vinod Nangia, associate professor of physics, was a faculty member from 1982 until his retirement in December 2002. He taught the full range of physics courses including electronics and experimental physics. His recent research was focused on numerical studies of the vibration-rotation spectrum of dipolar molecules.

Audre Ross, principal accounts specialist, has been a staff member since 1964, serving her first four and one half years as UMM's first financial aid secretary. She has held her current position with the Division of Science and Mathematics for 35 years. Ross is responsible for ordering all supplies and equipment needed for instruction and research in her division, including lab chemicals, computers, software and scientific instruments. She manages the budgets for all the disciplines and faculty grants. In 1982 she received the Mary Martelle Memorial Award, and in 1992 she received the Outstanding Support Staff Award. Ross says it's been the wonderful faculty and staff with whom she worked throughout the years who have made her position truly enjoyable. And as a bonus, every day presents a different and interesting challenge.

Thelma Wilson, principal secretary, was a staff member from 1981 until her retirement in December 2002. She served her entire career in the Office of the Registrar. Her first responsibilities included grade collection and distribution. She played an important role in converting hand-transcribed academic records, "linens," to computer records and most recently helped with the transition of student transcripts from the legacy computer to PeopleSoft. Wilson supervised the busy transcript and certification service making important customer service improvements such as providing faxed transcripts and accepting credit card payments. She received the Outstanding Support Staff Award in 1995.

Special thanks to John Stuart Ingle for granting permission to reproduce a transparency of his painting "Still Life With Overland Flyer" for use as a special retirement gift. Professor Ingle's retirement gift is a ceramic pot created by Kevin Flicker '74, UMM ceramics teaching specialist.
