UMM Horsemen's Club Program Friday

The evening program scheduled for Friday, Feb. 21 will be introducing one of the four native American light breeds—the Morgan horse. This breed has been known for its excellent disposition and temperament. It is also highly known for being one of the most versatile breeds (driving, saddle-seat, hunt-seat, and stock-seat).

The guest speaker for the program is Mr. Bernard Schrantz from Sauk Centre, breeder and owner of the KA-Bar Morgan Farm. The program will also be followed by a 45 minute color film about the Morgan Breed, entitled "Pride and Product of America".

The program will be held at UMM Math and Science Auditorium Annex, at 7:30 p.m. The public is cordially invited. There will be a charge of 25 cents to help cover expenses. Coffee and refreshments will be served after the program.

Horsemen's Set Arena Dedication

Dedication ceremonies for the new Horsemen's Arena on the campus of the University of Minnesota, Morris will be held Sunday, April 27, beginning at approximately 12:30 p.m. between the pleasure and game class events of the Fourth annual UMM Horse Show.

The ceremonies will begin with a short introduction and history by James Van Alstine, Instructor of Geology at UMM and advisor to the UMM Horsemen organization, followed by a presentation of momentos of the event to visiting dignitaries.

UMM Provost John Q. Imholte will cut the ribbon officially opening the new facility, at which time the UMM Horsemen Drill Team will perform a riding routine.

The first colt born in the UMM stables, a registered part

Arabian foal belonging to Becky Hegstad of Windom, a member of the UMM Horsemen, will be shown, followed by the National Anthem and the exit of the drill team.

The UMM Horsemen have voted to name the new arena the Melander-Brown Arena, after the organization's founders, Jeff and Linda Melander of Morris, and Vicki Brown of Windom.

The UMM Horsemen was organized four years ago to promote horsemanship on the UMM campus. Organization members are Grant Johnson, Edina; Rosie Wright, Madison; Doug Hystead, Cottage Grove; Becky Hegstad, Vicki Brown, Paula Brown, all of Windom; Carmen Brooks and Sharon Resnechek, both of Sauk Centre; and Rick Bohlman, Granite Falls.

5th Annual Horse Show

The UMM Horsemen would like to invite everyone to their 5th Annual Open Horse Show which will be held Sunday May 2nd from 10:00 a.m. on. There will be pleasure classes held in the morning and game events in the afternoon. Pleas'ire classes are jumping, reining, trail class, non-Western pleasure classes, and horsemanship. These types of classes are judged on horse and rider combination, on how well they work together-in pleasure classes (ie. English Pleasure & Western Pleasure) the judge is looking mainly at the horse-how it responds to the various commands. A good pleasure hose will move calmly and quietly through the various exercises proving himself to be a nice horse to just "take out for a ride." Horsemanship classes are similar to Pleasure Classes however the rider is judged more than the horse. How the rider commands his horse, the interaction between horse and rider are important. Also considered pleasure classes are bareback competitions both single horse-rider comb. & tandem-where 2 people (trying to look as one) ride barback on the same horse.

The game events will take place after the lunch break and the drill team exercises by the UMM Horsemen. Game events are fast moving-timed competitions whereby a horse & rider try to move through a particular pattern as fast as possible without breaking or obstructing the patter. This horse show will feature such games as clover-leaf barreel racing, pole-bending, keyhole, sack race & four horse relays.

Horse shows are fun for both riders & spectators, a good chance to see how horse and riders can work together. There will be lunch stands on the grounds and the show will be held in the campus arena Melander-Brown riding arena east of the barns.
