For our 2015-2016 assessment plan, the French discipline has decided to focus on our new Civilization and Composition courses. In each of them, we will administer a pre-and post-test to assess students' incoming understanding of French and francophone history and culture.

We will also give pre- and post-tests in our upper-division 3xxx elective courses to see how much knowledge the advanced students retained from one class to another and whether they are able to build upon it as they move through their studies.
