Summary: The Morris Symphonic Winds is pleased to announce the last of this season's concerts - Seascapes - on Sunday April 29, 2012 at 3:00 p.m. in the Humanities Fine Arts Recital Hall.

(April 26, 2012)-The Morris Symphonic Winds is pleased to announce the last of this season's concerts - Seascapes - on Sunday April 29, 2012 at 3:00 p.m. in the Humanities Fine Arts Recital Hall.

British composer David Bedford's "Sun Paints Rainbows on the Vast Waves" is a modern-day tone poem that explores the sea through the eyes of Samuel Taylor Coleridge, while the 1993 Ostwald Award winning work, "Sea Drift" by Anthony Iannaccone is full of impressionistic imagery reminiscent of the Debussy or Ravel.

We are delighted to welcome back Ann DuHamel, Professor of Keyboard Studies at UMM, in a performance of Frigyes Hidas' Piano Concerto No 1, and Symphonic Winds explores the world of contemporary music with a work for winds and electronics by the emerging American composer, Christopher Stark.

The concert will, as usual, be preceded by a preconcert chat (2:30 p.m.), between the conductor, Simon Tillier and Dr. Janet Ericksen, associate professor of English at Morris.

Tickets will be sold at the door and in advance at the Information Desk in the Student Center.
Adults $5, Seniors/Children $3, and Students with ID $1.
