Asking the Big Questions campus/community discussion group explores Minnesota in the Movies

Summary: The topic is part of a yearlong series on Minnesota culture and history.

(September 28, 2011)-The monthly Asking the Big Questions campus/community discussion series, sponsored by the University of Minnesota, Morris Rodney A. Briggs Library, Faculty Development Committee, and History Discipline, will explore Minnesota culture and history during the 2011–12 academic year. The first gathering is on Thursday, September 29, at 7 p.m. in the library's McGinnis Room on the Morris campus.

The September discussion, Minnesota in the Movies, will spotlight how the state and its people have been portrayed on the silver screen. Clips of various films will be shown, and a discussion will follow.

Refreshments will be served at 6:30 p.m. Contact Peter Bremer, librarian, at 320-589-6173 with questions. Everyone is invited to attend.

Through personal and academic discovery, the University of Minnesota, Morris provides opportunities for students to grow intellectually, engage in community, experience environmental stewardship and celebrate diversity. A renewable and sustainable educational experience, Morris prepares graduates for careers, for advanced degrees, for lifelong learning, for work world flexibility in the future, and for global citizenship.
