Morris Homecoming Concert to feature Symphonic Winds, Jazz Ensemble, and Concert Choir

Summary: The annual tradition begins the academic year concert season.

(September 21, 2011)-The Music Discipline is pleased to announce its 2011 Homecoming Concert on Sunday, October 2, at 2 p.m. The concert will be performed in the Recital Hall of Humanities Fine Arts on campus. This year, the concert will feature three of the University's premier ensembles.

The Symphonic Winds, under the direction of Simon Tillier, will perform Roger Nixon's flamboyant Fiesta del Pacifico celebrating California's Old Spanish Days. Autumn Walk by the African American composer Julian Work follows. The Symphonic Winds' portion of the program concludes with the patriotic American Salute by Morton Gould based on "When Johnny Comes Marching Home."

The Jazz Ensemble, under the direction of Dustin Retzlaff, will perform three instrumental pieces including Frank Foster's Shiny Stockings, as performed by the Count Basie Orchestra, and John Oddo's arrangement of John Brown's Other Body, as performed by the Woody Herman Orchestra.

The Concert Choir, under the direction of Ken Hodgson, will conclude the concert with a variety of pieces including Surely He Has Borne Our Grievs by Karl H. Graun and Anoj Pusej Dunojellio by Vaclovas Augustinas.

Admission to this event is free. For more Homecoming 2011 events and activities, please visit the Homecoming web page.
