Buckets and Tap Shoes to present energetic performance on Edson Auditorium stage

Summary: The group specializes in performances that feature found objects, buckets, cans, and tap shoes.

(October 30, 2010)-As part of the University of Minnesota, Morris Performing Arts Series, Buckets and Tap Shoes will perform on the University of Minnesota, Morris campus in Edson Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, November 13, 2010. The group features a collection of musicians, percussionists, and dancers that bring great energy to the stage with five-gallon buckets, metal cans, found objects, and of course, tap shoes. The group received honors at the 2004 Minnesota Fringe Festival and from Minneapolis City Pages.

Morris student Sam Krump-Johnson '11, Maple Grove, who majors in theater and media, is really excited to see the group. "I've heard really good things about them, so I know I'm going to try and get all my friends to go."

On Sunday, November 14, 2010, at 11 a.m. in HFA 125, the Humanities Fine Arts theatre and dance rehearsal room, Buckets and Tap Shoes will present a tap master class that is free and open to the public. The class is intended for all levels of tap experience. Bring your tap shoes.

For ticket information for the evening performance, contact the Office of Student Activities at 320-589-6080.

This activity is made possible in part by a grant provided by the Minnesota State Arts Board, through an appropriation by the Minnesota State Legislature from the Minnesota arts and cultural heritage fund with money from the vote of the people of Minnesota on November 4, 2008.

Through personal and academic discovery, the University of Minnesota, Morris provides opportunities for students to grow intellectually, engage in community, experience environmental stewardship and celebrate diversity. A renewable and sustainable educational experience, Morris prepares graduates for careers, for advanced degrees, for lifelong learning, for work world flexibility in the future, and for global citizenship.
