Benefit for UMM student, Tiffany Thielke

Summary: A Sloppy Joe Benefit for University of Minnesota, Morris student Tiffany Thielke will be held from 4 to 7 p.m. Saturday, March 31, at the Glenwood Senior Center.

(March 21, 2007)-A Sloppy Joe Benefit for University of Minnesota, Morris student Tiffany Thielke will be held from 4 to 7 p.m. Saturday, March 31, at the Glenwood Senior Center, located one block south of the stoplights in Glenwood. Thielke is the daughter of Gail and Charlie Boe of Glenwood. Gail is employed by Plant Services at UMM.

Thielke was first diagnosed with acute myelogenous leukemia in 2003. She has undergone extensive hospital stays, tests and chemotherapy. In 2006 she had more chemotherapy and full body radiation in preparation for a bone marrow transplant. She is now suffering a form of rejection, which has resulted in pulmonary veno-occlusive disease.

A bake sale and silent auction will be part of the event, which is sponsored by the Waska Riders Saddle Club Members. For more information or to help in any way, contact Kay Harth, (320) 634-0044.
