State of the U address broadcast today

Summary: The public is invited to the campus of the University of Minnesota, Morris to view a broadcast of the annual State of the University Address in the Science Auditorium, Room 2950 Science, beginning at 4 p.m. today.

(March 21, 2007)-The public is invited to the campus of the University of Minnesota, Morris to view a broadcast of the annual State of the University Address, rescheduled from March 1 due to the weather. University of Minnesota President Robert Bruininks will give the address, which will be broadcast from the Twin Cities campus via interactive television to all University campuses. At UMM, the address can be viewed in the Science Auditorium, Room 2950 Science, beginning at 4 p.m. Thursday, April 5.

Following the address, there will be time allotted for questions, during which members of the audiences from all University campuses may ask questions of President Bruininks.

Through personal and academic discovery, the University of Minnesota, Morris provides opportunities for students to grow intellectually, engage in community, experience environmental stewardship and celebrate diversity. A renewable and sustainable educational experience, Morris prepares graduates for careers, for advanced degrees, for lifelong learning, for work world flexibility in the future, and for global citizenship.
