The moon rocks!

Summary: Do you ever find yourself gazing up at the moon? Would you like to know a little more about what it's like up there? Well, here's your chance!

(March 21, 2007)-Do you ever find yourself gazing up at the moon? Would you like to know a little more about what it's like up there? Well, here's your chance!

The University of Minnesota, Morris Geology Club will display lunar rocks and soil samples collected during the Apollo missions to the moon this Thursday, March 22, at 7 p.m. in Science 1650. The rocks, on loan from NASA, are provided by Geology Professor Jamey Jones. This event is open to the public.
