So, what's your domain?

Summary:

(March 3, 2005)-So, what's your domain?

Before the era of the world wide web, one might have asked someone: "What's your name?" Or "What's your sign?" Now, a sign of the times has many asking the question: "What's your domain?"

The University of Minnesota, Morris has just changed its domain name from "www.mrs.umn.edu" to www.morris.umn.edu.

"Changing from our current ".mrs.umn.edu" domain has been in discussion for a long time," said UMM Chancellor Sam Schuman. "Our new domain is user-friendly easy to find easy to remember. I think it is an important marketing improvement for us."

What's your domain? For the Morris campus of the University of Minnesota, just remember "Morris."
