Register for Symposium on Small Towns by June 2

Summary:

(May 25, 2004)-What does outstate Minnesota have that you can't find in the big city? Small towns? A sense of community? A willingness to share and learn? If you answer with any of these, you are correct!

The Second Annual Symposium on Small Towns, to be held June 8-9 on the campus of the University of Minnesota, Morris, will showcase projects of the area's small towns as well as what one might expect to find only in a big city: performing arts and a nationally recognized cultural exhibit! All of this is open to everyone.

Musician extraordinaire Peter Ostroushko returns following last year's Symposium for an encore performance at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 8, in Edson Auditorium. He will be joined on stage by guitarist Arkadiy Yushin.

"One of the finest musicians on the planet" (Rhythm Music Magazine), Ostroushko reflects musical styles from all over the planet, from Irish to bluegrass to Brazilian, with a special nod to his Ukrainian heritage. He is one of the most accomplished mandolin and fiddle players touring today. The former music director of Garrison Keillor's "A Prairie Home Companion," Ostroushko still makes frequent appearances on the radio show. He has recorded with Bob Dylan, Chet Atkins, Emmylou Harris, Willie Nelson and scores of others.

Yushin, born in Minsk, Belarus, first came to the U.S. in 1997 as a student of Berklee College of Music in Boston. An arranger, composer, professional recording and performance musician, and guitarist, he has performed with numerous regional national and international artists including Anthony Cox, Adi Yeshaya, Tim Mohony, Jim Anton, and Janet Jackson.

Registration for the Symposium, titled "Rural Communities Adapting to the New Century" is open through June 2.
