FBI whistle-blower, Coleen Rowley, is next CAC Convocations speaker

Summary:

(October 13, 2003)-Coleen Rowley, best known as an FBI whistle-blower and one of Time magazine's 2002 Persons of the Year, will speak at 7:30 p.m., Monday, Oct. 27, in Edson Auditorium on the University of Minnesota, Morris campus. Rowley's lecture, "Doing the Right Thing at all Costs...Ethical Decision Making," a presentation of the Campus Activities Council (CAC) Convocations Committee at UMM, is free and open to the public.

Rowley is the FBI staff attorney who caused a sensation with a memo to FBI Director Robert Mueller about Zacarias Moussaoui taking 747 flying lessons. She put everything on the line to reveal the truth of how she feels the FBI ignores critical leads.

The mission of CAC Convocations is to challenge conventional thought and promote a diverse community by presenting a year-long series of various speakers and events. The next Convocations speaker will be Harvard professor Randall Kennedy, at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Jan. 20, 2004.

The views expressed by the visiting speakers of the UMM Convocations Series do not necessarily reflect the views of the Regents of the University of Minnesota, the University of Minnesota, Morris students, staff or faculty, or the UMM Convocations Committee.

Through personal and academic discovery, the University of Minnesota, Morris provides opportunities for students to grow intellectually, engage in community, experience environmental stewardship and celebrate diversity. A renewable and sustainable educational experience, Morris prepares graduates for careers, for advanced degrees, for lifelong learning, for work world flexibility in the future, and for global citizenship.
