Listen to Keillor's UMM show online

Summary: If you missed UMM's "A Prairie Home Companion" performance, you can experience the same great show enjoyed by a filled-to-capacity crowd on campus and more than four million radio listeners around the world.

(February 16, 2006)-If you missed the Garrison Keillor and "A Prairie Home Companion" performance at the University of Minnesota, Morris last Saturday, February 11, 2006, never fear. The complete show...monologues, comedy sketches and a wonderful array of music...is available at A Prairie Home Companion.

You will experience online the same great show enjoyed by the filled-to-capacity crowd gathered in the UMM gymnasium, as well as more than four million people who listened from around the world to the live radio performance. The evening includes excellent performances by UMM's own Concert Choir and UMM music instructor Tim Sparks on guitar. The regional and UMM campus history references scattered frequently throughout the sketches, music and monologues are not to be missed.

The "A Prairie Home Companion" Web site also includes an assortment of photos from the UMM performance and a time-lapse video showing the transformation of the UMM gymnasium to performance venue and stage.

Through personal and academic discovery, the University of Minnesota, Morris provides opportunities for students to grow intellectually, engage in community, experience environmental stewardship and celebrate diversity. A renewable and sustainable educational experience, Morris prepares graduates for careers, for advanced degrees, for lifelong learning, for work world flexibility in the future, and for global citizenship.
