FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Peter Sagal To Speak at Morris

Summary: Sagal will present “Current Events: Why Satire Is the Only Reasonable Response to the Times We Live In.”

MORRIS, Minnesota (September 14, 2015)—The University of Minnesota, Morris will present Peter Sagal, host of National Public Radio’s Wait, Wait Don’t Tell Me, in a convocation on Monday, September 28, at 7:30 p.m. in the Student Center Edson Auditorium. Sagal’s talk is titled “Current Events: Why Satire Is the Only Reasonable Response to the Times We Live In.”

Sagal is an author, humorist, and commentator on current events, with a remarkably eclectic career and an inquiring mind. He attended Harvard University and has worked as a literary manager for a regional theater, a stage director, an actor, an extra in Michael Jackson’s “Remember the Time” video, a travel writer, an essayist, a ghostwriter for a former adult film impresario, and a staff writer for a motorcycle magazine. In addition to his very funny Book of Vice: Very Naughty Things (And How to Do Them), he is the author of numerous plays and a number of screenplays.

This event is free and open to the public. For more information, please contact the Office of Student Activities at 320-589-6080 or ummstact@umn.edu.
