MORRIS, Minnesota (October 28, 2015)—The University of Minnesota, Morris is pleased to present its fifth Celebration of Scholarly Accomplishments. The event will showcase examples of outstanding research and artistic activities undertaken by more than 50 faculty, staff, and retirees in the last year, in addition to nearly 50 examples from earlier Celebrations.

This year's celebration will be open to students and the public on Wednesday, November 11, and on Thursday, November 12, from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. in the Student Center's Oyate Hall. All are welcome to come celebrate the academic and creative accomplishments of Morris's faculty and staff.

"Each year we pause to celebrate the work of our faculty and staff to further our understanding of the world around us," says Bart Finzel, vice chancellor for academic affairs and dean. "This year, the fifth anniversary of the event, we celebrate the remarkable productivity of our faculty and staff by bringing together examples of recent scholarly work with representations of the work from prior Celebrations."

"One of the most important indicators of a university's success is the scholarly work produced by its faculty members," adds Chancellor Jacqueline R. Johnson. "This event provides a window into the rich array of intellectual life at Morris and celebrates our academic and creative success."

There will be an opening reception and exclusive showing for faculty, staff, and retirees on Tuesday, November 10. The reception begins at 4:30 p.m. in the Student Center's Oyate Hall.

The Celebration of Scholarly Accomplishments is sponsored by the Office of the Chancellor, the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs and Dean, Rodney A.
