GUIDANCE COURSE AT UMM

High school faculty members interested in guidance work will have the opportunity to enroll in a course in group procedures in guidance beginning Monday, February 27th in the Humanities Building on the University of Minnesota, Morris campus.

The course EdCE 135, is offered by the University College of Education through the facilities of the General Extension Division. Taught by Thomas A. Soldahl, instructor and counselor trainer in the College of Education, the class will meet on Monday evenings from 4:15 to 6:45 through May 8 (omitting March 27).

The ten sessions will include such topics as orientation procedures, the guidance function of classroom teachers, guidance through co-curricular activities, and units or courses in occupations or personal adjustment.

Further inquiries may be addressed to the Office of Student Services at the University of Minnesota, Morris. No registrations will be accepted after the second class meeting.
