Janet Lawler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Lawler, Morris, was recently named recipient of the first AAUW Award at the University of Minnesota, Morris. This award is presented annually to an outstanding woman undergraduate at UMM by the Morris Branch of the American Association of University Women.

Miss Lawler was honored for her excellent scholastic achievement and her noteworthy contributions to campus life.

Active in organizing the student government and other activities when UMM began college work last fall, Miss Lawler represented the Newman Club and the Inter-Faith Council in the student government throughout the year. She served as treasurer of the Newman Club and participated in Inter-Faith Council plans for clergy day and religious convocations.

Miss Lawler was a member of the band, the staff of the student newspaper, and the Morris Players, campus drama organization in which she served as secretary. She also acted in one of the productions.

Serving on the student information and hospitality committee, she led visitors on campus tours at various times during the year. She also chairmanned segments of the UMM activity days last month.
