INDIAN FILM TO OPEN UMM FILM SERIES

The winter quarter film series of the University of Minnesota, Morris will open next Monday evening with "Aparajito", the second part of a prize-winning Indian trilogy. The film, particularly cited for its outstanding photography and remarkable portrayal of Indian character, was awarded the grand prize at the Venice Film Festival. It will be shown to series subscribers at 8:30 p.m. Monday in Edson Hall auditorium.

General admission tickets are available at $2.00 for the winter quarter series of four films. They may be purchased at the UMM business office or at the showing of the first film on Monday evening.

Following "Aparajito" on the winter program are a French comedy, "The Sheep has Five Legs", on February 5; "Confessions of Felix Krull", German adaptation of Thomas Mann's novel, on February 19; and "Ivan the Terrible", Eisenstein's classic film on the famous Russian ruler, on March 5.
