For Immediate Release

More than $30,000 has been pledged to the "Dollars for Scholars" drive, according to Carl Hogander, general chairman of the seven-county campaign for scholarship funds for University of Minnesota, Morris students.

While an effort was made to contact every home and business in west central Minnesota by last Friday, much follow-up work will have to be done yet, Hogander said this week. Several chairmen have yet to make their reports. He said he does not expect the final tabulations of contributions to be completed for a week or two.

Hogander expressed particular gratitude to the many volunteers who put in so many hours working toward the success of the drive. He also pointed out that while the "Dollars for Scholars" campaign is a special effort, any one at any time may contribute to the University of Minnesota, Morris scholarship fund.

Climaxing the "Dollars for Scholars" drive was a telethon Friday evening over KCMT-TV which was widely viewed by west central Minnesota residents many of whom were attending special television-viewing parties.
