Attention News Directors and Managers:

Yesterday I sent you a release on the Evening School at the University of Minnesota, Morris. Since then, Charles Hanna, Co-ordinator for the program, has announced a change in the registration procedure. No late fee will be charged for any registration through the first class period on the 23rd of September. Originally, and in the release yesterday, it was stated that Wednesday, September 18, was the last day for registration without paying a late fee of $3.00. This no longer holds.

I hope that you can make this correction. Thank you.
